

Registration Fall 2022

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS AND COURSE PLANNING WORKSHEETS

Student handbook includes a guide and course planning worksheets that explain the requirements for completing the degree. Use them to begin thinking ahead about your course plan.

CLUSTERS

- Incoming students have already picked a cluster during the admissions process. A brief description of these can be found on the website.
- Keep in mind that your concentration is flexible, and that you may enter one cluster but switch to another after your first semester (with faculty advisor approval).

HOW TO FIND COURSES AND DESCRIPTIONS

- Online Course Schedule: The TC general course schedule for Fall 2022 and Spring 2023 is available online with the most recent course information. Under the “Any Subject” category, search for courses by finding “All International & Transcultural Studies courses”. The schedule is updated several times weekly.
- Program Website: Brief course descriptions can be found here. In addition, some faculty members provide detailed course descriptions on their individual websites.

NEXT STEPS

- Worksheet: Please create a list of 3-5 courses that you would like to take using your course planning worksheet.
- ITSF Core Courses: All incoming masters students must register for ITSF 4580: Comparative Education in the Fall semester.
- Prepare a few back-up options beyond those 3-5 classes you have selected.
- Peer Advisor: Email the list of your proposed courses to the Peer Advisor. Please include your cluster in the email so that they can best assist you.
- PIN: You should have already received the registration PIN from the Program Assistant. If you have any difficulties with the registration PIN, contact the Program Assistant at iceinfo@tc.edu.
- Faculty Advisor: Discuss your course plan with your faculty advisor who will give final approval for your course selection.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

- With the PIN that you receive (from the Peer Advisor or Program Assistant) you can register for most courses, but some require special permission from the instructor. To register for this kind of courses in the ICed program, you must email the professor and copy (cc) the Program Assistant at iceinfo@tc.columbia.edu expressing your interest (just a brief sentence or two is fine) and requesting permission to enroll. To register for this kind of courses outside of the ICed program, you must email the professor directly.

ADVISEMENT CONTACT INFORMATION

Your Faculty Advisor will be assigned to you during the summer prior to starting classes and will be available to provide advisement regarding your initial course selection and any other questions you might have at that time and throughout the academic year.

The Peer Advisor is available at peeradvisors@tc.columbia.edu to discuss your course plan and other questions related to registration for fall. During the summer months a peer advisor (typically a doctoral student) will also be available to provide advisement. In order to make the best use of the advisement, please read all of the information carefully and ask specific questions.
